

The project Re Fiascone is looking for interns

Our philosophy

We work to unite humans and nature. The Re Fiascone project unites cultural heritage, biodiversity and vegetable rarities, rural development, and social economy. We care to maintain the terraced landscape of the Amalfi Coast, work together with local farmers and we are passionate about high quality food and delicate tastes.

What is important to us:

- Passion in the topic and that you feel the spirit of eco-social entrepreneurship. You also have an interest in the topic (food and food production)
- Communicativeness - You enjoy developing new elements for our external communication and customer relationships
- Openness and curiosity for new tasks all around the project
- Team player - you are confident to be in a new environment and still find your place in our small international team in the rural mountain area of Tramonti

We offer:

- Living on the amazing venue of the Amalfi Coast
- High learning opportunity in both disciplinary and transversal competences
- Being part of an international team and a thorough introduction to know the Italian culture
- Working languages English and Italian
- Grow together with the project
- We host Erasmus+ Placement Traineeships- please contact your university
- Start between Feb.-Apr. 2021 for a duration 6-8 months
- Some additional benefits like some lunches in the office together, access to bicycles

We are looking for 2 interns to support our team in:

- Web-design (creating of an e-commerce)
- Online marketing and communication (Wordpress / newsletter / merchandising / seasonal campaigns) and improving visitor experience
- Community management for social media (Instagram and facebook)
- Video making (planning, filming, editing) for social media
- Get to know the association and help in many other projects

How to apply

We invite you to get to know the projects of ACARBIO and the experience of previous interns at <https://www.blogcielomareterra.it/?cat=200>. To apply, please answer to answer to this questionnaire in order to find out more about you (<https://forms.gle/cG3pYEQ8qL2si4Hq9>) and send us a CV and a motivational statement to staff@riservabiosferacostiera.org where you tell us:

- Why you want to be part of the ACARBIO and Re Fiascone team
- Which of the above tasks you are interested in and your motivation
- Why you would fit well in the team
